If you are interested in a career working with children, or want to enhance your college application, volunteering provides a rewarding experience for both younger students and for you.

Future Leaders, offered in partnership with the Des Plaines Youth Commission, provides an easy way for high school students to serve as positive role models to younger students through a peer mentoring relationship. We make it simple to connect with younger students by planning recreational and team-building activities and time for constructive interaction, conversation, and emotional support. High school mentors benefit by making a positive contribution to their community, developing new friendships and relationships, and seeing first-hand the positive and lasting influence they can have on a young person's life.
